ly in connection with the possibility that 100 to 200 million tons of wheat in the United States may be sold to the Soviet Union In Congress, there is opposition to the idea for while a "cold war" doesn't involve battles between armies of this country and Russia, the fact is that American soldiers have lost their lives in fighting the guerrillas sent into South Viet Nam by the Communists Likewise large numbers of American troops stand guard in Korea and in Berlin against Communist armies. Not many months ago, a missile base was established in Cuba, and around 15,-000 Russian troops still remain on the island Friendlier Relations

Nobody would object to selling food or almost anything else to the Soviet Union if there were no "cold war" going on today The American people would be glad to develop friendlier relations with the Soviet people. But should trade restrictions be removed without bringing the "cold war" to an end? Senator Karl Mundt of South Dakota, Republican, in a speech to the Senate a few days ago, pointed out that it is not just the sale of wheat that is involved. For if wheat is sold, then sale of other products, not necessarily agricultural, will be pressea

Mr Mundt urged President Kennedy to call a conference here of all the countries of the free world which are engaged in exporting either agricultural or industrial materials. The purpose would be "to formulate a workable, consistent pattern of trade with the Communist - bloc countries, and to determine the impact that a program of expanded trade with Russia. Nobody would object to selling food or almost anything else to the Soviet Union if there were no "cold war" going on today The American people would be glad to develop friendlier relations with the Soviet people But should trade restrictions be removed without bringing the "cold wai' to an end? Senator Karl Mundt of South

Mr Mundt urged President Kennedy to call a conference here of all the countries of the free world which are engaged in exporting either agricultural or n.dustrial materials. The purpose would be "to formulate a workable, consistent pattern of trade with the Communist - bloc countries, and to determine the impact that a program of expanded trade with Russia, Cuba, Red China, and other Communist countries would have upon the mutual assistance and foreign aid programs to which the United States is today by far the most significant and sizable contribu-

Everyone's favorite . . . Apple Pie . . . takes on a scrumptious nut and butterscotch topping to become a delicious dessert. This handsome pie features tender pastry heaped with apples and crowned with the topping that resembles streusel but is a little richer and thicker. The trick of the tender crust is to stir very cold water drop by drop into the dry ingredients while simultaneously pushing aside moistened particles so that pastry doesn't become too wet in spots.

Fragrant with spices reminiscent of old fashioned gingerbread, this apple topping of whipped cream or sweetened sour cream is all that's needed for the perfect "frosting" on the cake.

A beautiful aspic for a salad lunch or as a first course for dinner, this one combines diced apple and celery with canned tomato sauce and lemon flavored gelatin. The fruit and vegetable provide crispness, the tomato sauce and gelatin the tartness for excellent contrast. Top each salad with sour cream.

Um-m-m Good Apple Dishes

BY LILLIAN MACKESY Post-Crescent Food Editor

With the gold and scarlets of autumn come the crisp, juicy apples to give sparkle to the new season's menus. It's always a treat to get some of these first-of-the-crop fruit and we're fortunate in the Fox Cities area because apple growing is one of Wisconsin's best agricultural pursuits. Nearby Door County leads apple production in the state, but there also are some wonderful appleproducing orchards in Waupaca County and in-between,

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture estimates that Wisconsin's apple crop will be about the same as last year . . . that means 1.5 million bushels of apples for out-of-hand munching and in-the-dish cooking. Apples also come to us from other states, particularly Michigan, Minnesota and the far west.

Right now, the main varieties available are the McIntosh, Wealthy, Jonathan and both the Red and Gold delicious. Greenings will be more plentiful a little later as will the Cortlands and Rome Beauties. The Delicious apple is favored for salads and eating raw, but don't overlook the Cortland. This apple, a cross between the McIntosh and an old-timer called the Ben Davis, doesn't discolor easily after it has been cut. Since it also has the white flesh of the McIntosh, it's a superb

Dear Grassy: A good rule of thumb when dining out is this: Tip 15 per cent of the bill for good service. For especially good service or extra attention. make it closer to 20 per cent.

If you are grabbing a quick bite at a lunch counter and if the gal did not treat you as if she was slopping the hogs, leave 15 cents under the plate. If you had only a cup of coffee and she served you more coffee in the cup than in the saucer, leave 5 cents.

Taxi drivers are a hard-working bunch and since many of them are philosophers and political scientists as well as drivers, the conversation is worth something. A 15 cent tip on a 50 cent meter, 20 cents on a 70 cent meter and two-bits on a dollar ride is about right. If you stay in a hotel always leave a tip for the maid. About 50 cents a night is right. The

A bootblack should get a dime, and when you buy a newspaper on the street it's nice to let the man keep the extra pennies or the nickel.

The beauty operator should be tipped 15 per cent of the bill unless the operator owns the shop. Most shop owners refuse to accept tips. Offer anyway.

If you are a weekend guest in the home of a friend or relative and there is a maid on the place you should leave the maid a couple of dollars in an envelope with her name on it (Don't give it to the hostess and ask her to give it to Daisy.) If you have staved two weeks. Daisy should get about $5.

Don't offer to tip a nurse, a mailman, a bus driver, a milkman, a receptionist in an office or airline personnel. (Sky-caps should be tipped about 50 cents for a short haul, but not stew-ar elses or ticket agents. Le latter do not accept tios.)

Right off, let us note that like trying to learn to sail with the "Our Town," its events occur in times, and an Army officer defeated and wild. But there is Indian wars all over again. no plot. It weaves its spell inand a gentle understanding that is only gradually revealed.

The Misses Garrett and Van Patten use ribbon or scarf for a change of identity; the men rely on voice versatility alone as they vignette these next-door neighbors of a half century ago. With the quartet of players are two singers, Naomi Carvl Hirshhorn and Hal Lynch, to space the deeds with folk music. Simplicity Keynote

There is little acting-out of episodes; some of those in the parade of 70-plus characters speak alone, round the meaning with a look or gesture. And there is frequent laughter, robust and blunt.

Operetta Art Spooted in New Musical

BY WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)-Broadway's first musical arrival of the new "The Student Gypsy." gives old-fashioned operetta a high-spirited kidding. The show which premiered at the 54th Street Theater is a tour de force for Rick Besoyan, who clicked with a similar spoof, "Little Mary Sunshine" on the off-Broadway circuit a couple of seasons ago. As on that occasion, he wrote the book, composed the score, rhymed the lyrics and directed a lively cast. The hilarity this time is more limited, possibly because the frame has been enlarged for the big time. After all, the amount of jest in parody of one subject is limited, even though the locale is shifted from the Wild West to the land of Singspielia, somewhere between Graustark and Ruritania.

The performers are lively, especially Eileen Brennan as a Cinderella seeking her dream prince. How that girl can mock a sentiment and lilt a song.

Melodrama Unique Theater of the Past

Jingo Hopes for Sincerity in Coming Riverside Production of Old Classic

A generation or two ago people had strong feelings and they expressed them strongly. It was a matter of style to wear a heart on the sleeve. Strong men had strong feelings and it was ala mode for fair ladies to swoon.

In this atmosphere there had to be a strong theater to reflect, as the Bard said, the shape of the time. In this atmosphere there was no grayness in morality such as is the style today. Good was good and bad was bad.

These were the good old days, as they say. It certainly was a unique theater.

Except for some beer ads and anachronistic "centennial" celebrations, these times are lost to us; but as ages leave traces of archeological loreand folk tales these good old days have left their own traces in that unique theater whose differences are too strong

Robin Hood, Flour

Here's a coffee ring that's truly delicious and different. It's slightly spicy and the Grape-Nuts give it a real nut flavor. Have fun making it yourself the easy Robin Hood 'no-sift' way.

It's so easy to bake with Robin Hood Flour because Robin Hood is pre-sifted. No matter what you bake, you don't have to sift ever. And remember, Post Grape-Nuts is the light, refreshing breakfast cereal you know so well. Those crunchy nuggets add a nut-sweet flavor to this unusual Glazed Coffee Cake.

So look for Robin Hood Flour at your grocer's now. There's a coupon in specially marked bags that will save you 7¢ on your next purchase of Post Grape-Nuts. Take advantage of this offer and surprise your family with a tasty Glazed Coffee Ring.

Under the guidance of a blue ribbon council of educational specialists in the English language arts, the State Department of Public Instruction has launched a comprehensive curriculum center for the improvement of English teaching that will continue for at least four years

$200,000 Grant The advisory group headed by Prof Robert Pooley of the University of Wisconsin can draw upon a $200,000 federal grant for ats work

Prof Poolev is best known as a long time leader in the Wisconsin Council of Teachers of English and as an English professor on the staff of the University of Wisconsin where he formerly headed the integrated liberal studies curriculum

Prof Pooley has explained to teachers that findings and conclusions of the center's studies and experiments won't be compulsory. They will be submitted to the class-room teachers and supervisors as "guide-lines," he emphasized

$200,000 Grant

The advisory group headed by Prof Robert Pooley of the University of Wisconsin can draw upon a $200,000 federal grant for its work

Prof Pooley is best known as a long-time leader in the Wisconsin Council of Teachers of English, and as an English professor on the staff of the University of Wisconsin where he formerly headed the integrated liberal studies curriculum.

Prof Pooley has explained to teachers that findings and conclusions of the center's studies and experiments won't be compulsory. They will be submitted to the class-room teachers and supervisors as "guide-lines," he emphasized

The program thus far evolved calls for three major projects in successive years including the teaching of literature during the next year. 2. Study and experiment for the improvement of oral and written communication during the second year.

Wheat to Russia?

Congressman Melvin Laird has warned that the proposed United States sale of wheat and other farm produce to the Soviet Union is dangerous because it will release Russian agricultural workers for service in armament factòries. We have come to expect better things of Mr. Laird than such scare tactics. There may be reasons to oppose the sale but they should be based upon something more rational than that.

The present Russian need for grain is based in part upon the failure of about 10 per cent of this year's crop because of adverse weather conditions. However, now that Russia has started buying wheat, it is likely to continue for some time. In spite of Khrushchev's serious efforts to solve Russia's farm problem, production has not reached the needed levels even for home consumption. And the Russians, for reasons of prestige and to demonstrate the superiority of the Communist system, want to be able to supply produce for the satellite nations 'A large slice of the Canadian wheat purchase went to Cuba.

The Soviet Union certainly does not want to become reliant upon agricultural production in the West and particularly in the United States. It is unlikely to transfer farmers into factories both because it will want to continue to try to solve its farm problem and also because as we understand the nuclear weapons race, there is little need for a great deal more armaments in quantity. One reason why we believe the Soviet Union was willing to sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty was because it had little to gain from continued atmospheric testing. If the Russians have the ability to wipe out our major cities, as we have a similar ability regarding Russian cities, is there a desperate need to free farmers to make more arms?

The problem of whether or not to sell wheat to Russia. or to other Communist countries including Red China, is more involved than merely finding something more deadly for Russian farmers to do than raising grain. We are in the uncomfortable position of wanting communism as a system to be an abject failure all around the world while at the same time hoping it will be a market for our own goods. And of even greater concern, will more or less involvement in relations between Communist and non-Communist nations advance the causes of peace and justice in the world?

The idea that we can do extensive damage to Communist countries by starving them out of existence might be relevant if we could control the economies and trade of every nation in the world. But we most obviously cannot. Canada will continue to sell to Russia and to help supply Cuba. Australia's biggest wheat market is Red China. West Germany sells Russia flour made from U.S. wheat. Perhaps we can save face by refusing to sell directly to Communist countries and merely reap the benefit of the wider markets created because our allies sell to them. But we aren't fooling anyone but ourselves. Certainly we will do little harm to Communist econo-

It is of course highly unappealing to American taxpayers to subsidize sales of farm produce to Communist countries which we would be doing because any guaranteed price to American farmers is higher than the world market price which we would have to meet in selling to Communist countries as we do in selling to anyone else. We would seem to be actively subsidizing Communist prestige in being able to provide for their own people and those in the satellites. We would appear to be helping the Communist show what a success their economic ideology is. But this is a surface appearance. The ability of the Soviet Union to arrange for wheat purchases might impress the Poles or the Yugoslavs who have been having a lot of trouble doing the same. But the source of the agricultural produce could hardly be kept a

Furthermore we have to take a long range view of this whole problem. It is quite true that time and again we have been on better relations with Communist Russia only to be thrown once more into open conflict by duplicity on their part and what they felt was at least a temporary chance to get ahead. But communism has changed in Russia in some respects from the time of Lenin. This is shown most emphatically by the dispute with Red China. The Russian people are living better lives than ever in their history. They are in favor of peaceful coexistence even though its purpose is to bury us through economic means. But the Red Chinese have little to lose by aggressive war. The old battle cry of "guns for butter!" has rallied hungry, desperate people for decades.

We have proclaimed to the world that ours is a better system, not only for things of the spirit but materially for mankind. We cannot hope to isolate Communist countries. Would wheat sales to Russia so build up that nation's economy that it would be a greater threat to us than now? Will we be have been one of the last stops under auspices of the Bureau of long series of honors awarded quirements of higher learning. building up the Communist opposition or will we be helping to reduce tensions and oppressions upon which violence thrives?

Managed News From Viet Nam

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester seems to be all caught up in his "managed news" once again.

Sylvester is in Viet Nam with his boss, Secretary Robert McNamara, and General Maxwell Taylor on a special mission from the White House to find out just what is going on there and if possible, why. There has been criticism that United States newsmen prefer to point out the errors of Diem's government and the harsh treatment of the opposition instead of covering the war against the Communist Viet Cong. Reports from various government officials apparently have been in conflict as well.

President Kennedy, who presumably has access to firsthand information about Viet Nam, commented recently that there was a possibility that the war against the Viet Cong could be hindered because of squabbles within the government at Saigon. But Sylvester in Viet Nam held press conferences to report that McNamara and Taylor were receiving evidence that the war

Motivation Is Major Ingredient for Success

In College Experience

BY LEROY LUBERG

Wisconsin Report

MADISON - There is crackling excitement in the air as the new academic year begins. A fresh start brings a stimulus of the Wisconsin campus. High hopes are prominent in the faces of the confident seniors, as well as in the inquiring glances of eager, apinquiring glances of eager, apprehensive freshmen. Those on academic probation are sure that this time things will be better. And they probably will be. Gains in maturity and poise are commonly apparent in students after a few months of travel, work, and a chance for reflection about what the learning enterprise actually implies.

There are also the "late bloomers" whose true prowess

It is in the nature of college life that he will discover that most of the adjusting must be done on his own. Although able counsellors are available if he will seek them out, he will miss the immediate supervision and prodding that came from a high school home room teacher or a parent. For parents and professors a common concern at the start of a bright new year is centered on the means for assuring freshmen a successful academic experience. But no assurance can be given. Some do fail, and a considerable number are placed on probation. Which serves to raise the inevitable question. "What are the ingredients for academic success?" On the basis of observations made at the University of Wisconsin Counselling Center, the primary factor is motivation. The student's desire to earn a college degree, when strong enough, can overcome many inadequacies and handi-

THE FACTORS

We can suspect that many factors are involved; such as inspired teaching at critical times in a student's development, a curiosity that won't be satisfied, a love of learning for its own sake, or the sheer will to compete. We have much to learn about how the lackadaisical is aroused. We do know that a will to succeed is essential in obtaining excellence, and for the most, to maintain a decent grade point

The second essential is a reasonably strong aptitude for abstract thought. A third is a balanced life that is likely to include recreation, fellowship and daily experiences that contribute For the majority who attend to poise, health of mind and And the college campus is usual-

Savings Per Family From Efficiency

Treasure Island's Total Savings Program, designed to save the average family up to $200 per year, is made possible by efficient food handling.

Treasure Island's management has decided that every item in this Food Department should reflect all the savings of volume buying and fast efficient handling.

This means that each item will be priced low - not just a few limited specials. It means buyers will save on the items they need — not only on specials of limited appeal. It means shoppers will save dollars — not pennies.

Jim Schmidt, Meat Market Manager of Treasure Island, said today: "I'm happy to have the opportunity to feature U.S.D.A. Chaice Midwestern Corn Fed Beef here in Appleton. The beef that we sell must meet rigid specifications before being accepted by Treasure Island. These provide for weight, age and bloodline selection that have proved out over years of research to provide the finest, most flavorful, most tender, juicy beef."

Our customers will always get the benefit of savings achieved by volume selling, fast turnover and efficient handling! These economies will be reflected in the lowest possible price on every item - every day! Customer's total savings will grow week after week with return visits!

Hidden Costs Make "Come-On' Leaders Expensive

Many food buyers have won dered about "Come-On" Spe cials at Super Markets. Are they really the big bargains they appear?

Howard Heedum, Treasure Island Food Department manager points out that it is common practice of super markets to offer one item, such as sugar at a ridiculous price with certain amounts of other purchases. What this amounts to is this: You're asked to pay 50 or 60 cents too much for other items in order to sove 10 to 15 cents on one item.

As a smart shopper, next time you're tampted by one of these "bait" offers — ask yourself if it's real economy to throw away fifty cents in order to save a dime.

It's so easy to bake with Robin Hood Flour because Robin Hood is pre-sifted. No matter what you bake, you don't have to sift ever. And remember, Post Grape-Nuts is the light, refreshing breakfast cereal you know so well. Those crunchy nuggets add a nut-sweet flavor to this unusual Glazed Coffee Cake.

So look for Robin Hood Flour at your grocer's now. There's a coupon in specially marked bags that will save you 7¢ on your next purchase of Post Grape-Nuts. Take advantage of this offer and surprise your family with a tasty Glazed Post and Grape-Nuta are registered trademarks of General Foods Corp. Coffee Ring.
